TRAINING

A CORE PART OF OUR SECURITY CAPABILITY

Hostile Environment Awareness Training (HEAT) is an integral part of DIJLA's security services. Our HEAT courses are developed by security professionals and aligned with defined competency frameworks.

The program is designed for companies, government entities and NGOs, and for individuals operating in challenging and hostile environments.

We recognize that situations and security requirements can change rapidly; therefore, our training remains flexible to meet evolving operational needs.

COURSE PURPOSE

To expose students to the situations and predicaments they may encounter in hostile environments—beginning in the classroom and progressing to practical scenarios that build self-reliance and teamwork in small groups.

- ✓ The course opens with a scene-setting presentation on current global threats, their evolution, and how they could affect individuals and organizations.
- ✓ This is followed by a comprehensive medical training package preparing students to handle multiple medical emergencies—independently or as part of a small team.

CORE MODULES

Practical hostile-environment modules cover the essential skills and knowledge required to operate safely and effectively.

- ✓ Planning and self-sufficiency
- ✓ Mine awareness
- ✓ Dealing with IED situations
- ✓ Map reading
- ✓ Traveling with security teams
- ✓ Conflict resolution
- ✓ Avoiding kidnap and hostage situations

TRAINING METHOD

- ✓ Interactive classroom instruction and scenario-based learning
- ✓ Practical exercises and team-based simulations
- ✓ Situational-awareness exercise on the final day to apply and test all techniques and procedures learned
- ✓ Designed to build confidence, competence, and practical decision-making under pressure
